

GREAT NEWS! Purple Love by Susan Faith won two 2003 GLYPH Awards:

2003 Glyph Award: Best Children's Book

2003 Glyph Award: Best Inspirational, Spiritual Book

The Arizona Book Publishers Association (ABPA) awarded Sedona Publisher, Purple People Incorporated, two Glyph Awards on Saturday, May 10, 2003 at its award ceremony held in Scottsdale, AZ at the Doubletree La Posada Resort. Glyph Awards are awarded biannually to recognize excellence in publishing and to promote the book publishing industry in Arizona. The Glyph symbol is a stylized representation of a seven-rayed star or sun that indicates talents and the ability to develop them.

Purple People Incorporated is proud to be the recipient of two 2003 Glyph Awards and honored to be recognized for its excellence in publishing. These Awards are particularly important since the distinguished panel of judges consists of booksellers, librarians and academicians who chose "Purple Love" for Best Children's Book and Best Inspirational, Spiritual Book. The judging criteria include content, cover design, interior design, marketability, originality, and value.

Author and inspirational speaker Susan Faith received both Awards on behalf of Purple People Incorporated. Susan expressed her gratitude for the awards and stated that they she especially appreciated receiving them on the eve of Mother's Day, since she wrote "Purple Love" with her mother very much on her shoulder and in her heart, although her mother died in 1993. Susan Faith stated, "I am blessed to have overcome my health challenges, to live a happy and healthy life and to be able to share positive and inspirational messages when I write and speak."

"Purple Love" is a warm and inspirational story about life, death and the power of love. In honor of the Anniversary of "Purple Love", Purple People Incorporated is pleased to announce the availability of the adorable plush Purple Love 12" bunny and plush Purple Love keychains or backpack rings. "I am a Purple Person, Are You?" t-shirts are also available.
